*I usually work with colleagues from different disciplines, and my agenda is full of contacts, so I can find the most suitable profiles for each task.

*I aim to produce high-quality content, even in the smallest projects.

Background

I have a degree in Audiovisual Communication. I was awarded the "Best Director Award" of my university promotion. I've taken complementary filmmaking and storytelling courses from masters such as Spanish director Alberto Rodríguez or Mexican screenwriter Coco Levy.

I've made 2 feature films, 1 Webseries of 7 episodes, 4 Shortfilms and many different productions for TV and the Internet, and I've received 15 awards and multiple festival selections during these years.

My latest documentary feature "Parasceve, a portrait of Holy Week" (2021) was the fifth highest grossing Spanish film on its opening weekend and it was on the bill for 8 weeks.
